OUISVILLEJOURNAL

A most interesting and significant meeting was held at the Male High School on Thursday night. The object of the meeting was to show and other necessary female appendages, and by reasons why our people should be called on to contribute money for the purchase of scientific apparatus for the instruction and entertainment of the youth of the city.

Thos. E. Jenkins, M. D , Professor of Natura; Sciences, delivered a lecture on the influence which the cultivation of the sciences of National Philosophy and Chemistry have had, are having, and are to have on the material well-being of the human race, and the great aid the study of these branches lend in developing thought. The remarks of Prof. J. were various, pertinent, and striking. Amongst the mary striking examples of modern improvements directly resulting from philosophic and chemical inquiry the lecturer showed clearly that for the rich legacies of iron and steel in almost all their recent connections, for glass in all its beauty and utility, gas in its effulgence, scap in all its usefulness, we are indebted to the practi cal applications of these ciences. He instanced the manufacture of sulphuric acid in its thousands of industrial applications, the formation of soda from sea salt, candle, and illuminating oil making, the art of dying with its new and unrivalled magentas and solferinos, paper fabrication with the recent and rapid method of bleaching, the late process for the preparation of starch, the marvellous art of photography, and a thousand other modern improvements ministering to the comforts, pleasures, and mental and moral enjoyments of us all, as growing out of the chemical discoveries of

At the conclusion G. W. Morris, Eiq., President of the Board of Trustees, in a neat and pertinen, pech disclosed a few mest interesting facts not generally known to our citizens. Dr. Smith was followed by Prof. Grant, the principal of the school, who stated that it was the design of the faculty of the institution to carry out perpetually the system of popular instruction by popular lectures which has been inaugurated during the latter half of the present academic year. The unusual amount of good which has been accomplished in the way of instruction of teachers, parents, and children of the city, can hardly be conceived of by those who have not been fortunate enough to be present at the lec tures. The object is to obtain sufficient apparatus and appliances, as maps, charts, diagrams models, etc., to enable the professors to full illustrate their lectures and teachings not only to the students of the High School, but to teach in a pleasant, amusing, and instructive manner the children of all our schools and of the whole city, the more obvious laws and phenomena, such as must be useful to every one, to sap at its Sundation the erroneous notions and super-He . dso stated that the citizens of Louisville

There is a proneness in our schools to load the mind with mere words without niegning, and nothing could so thoroughly correct itis and arouse a spirit of inquiry in the child as illustrations by means of pictures, models, charts, and In order to further this most laudable and desirable end, it was, on motion, resolved to solicit contributions from the liberal and public spirited citizens, and a committee was appointed who will wait on gentlemen to-day. We are convinced that the investment will yield a most bountiful harvest, for this enterprise is in the hands of the right men, and its good results will be felt not only by every one of us now, but by our children and our children's children.

REBEL FERFIDY AND COL CORCORAN.-It is now pretty evident that the Richmond authorities, in their sham negotiations for the release of Col. Corcoran, have been simply experimenting with the Government. The New York Times says they have annexed half a d zen different conditions for his release—each of which has been when granted, they have perfidiously shuffled off Their last condition was that the privateersmen should be given up. This was an exacting de and felons, and not a fair exchange for prisoners of war. Our Government was, however, exceedingly anxious to secure the liberation of the gallant soldier, strained a point of law and acceded to the demand. The privateersmen, accordingly, were sent up to City Point, where our flag of truce and accompanying officers waited some days, till finally it became evident that there was real ly no serious intention of releasing Col. Corcoran, and they returned to Fortress Monroe.

That gallant soldier would bimsel, be the last to desire that an individual consideration should thus compromise the public policy. The President would do well to put his foot fown in regard to this matter.

We learn from Covington that the securi ties of Gen. Lucius Desha, of Harrison county, have surrendered him to the military authorities, and that he was on Saturday conveyed to Frankfort. It will be remembered that Gen. Desha was arrested a few weeks ago and lodged in the Military Prison in this city, but was subsequently have surrendered him to the military authorities. DR. HALL'S Louisville MEDICAL INFIRMARY Conducted on the plan of the Hospital des Veneriens, Paris,

Where those afflicted with any form of PRIVATE DISEASE can receive prompt treatment without risk or exposure, viz: Syphiliz, Gonorrhea, Gleet Strictures, Uicer, Tumors, Gleet Strictures, Uicer, Tumors, Cancers, Secondary and Constitutional Siphilia, Diseases of the Kidners, etc. By this system it is proved that the venereal complaint is as entirely under the control of medicine as is a common cold or simple fever; and, while inefficient persons are daily sending away their patients in hopelessness, and giving them up only from their own incompetency, complete and permanent curos are constantly being effected at the Infirmary.

YOUNG MEN, TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE.—Dr. H. devotes much of his time to the treatment of those cases caused by a secret habit which rums both body and naind, annitting the unfortunate individual for either business or society. The sad effect of these early habits, or the excess of riper years, are to weaken and debilitate the constitution, destroy the physical and mental powers, diminish and enfeeble the natural feelings, and exhaust the vital energies of manhood; the pleasures of life are marred, the object of marriage frustrated, and existence itself rendered a term of unceasing misery and regret. Such persons, especially those contemplating marriage, should lose no time in making immediate application, as Dr. H., by his new treatment, is enabled to insure a speedy and permanent cure.

vices in that most brilliant and memorable enany State has been promoted for services in Shiloh; but this instead of explaining the neglect renders it more inexplicable. The battle of Pittsburg Landing was fought by Gen. Grant, and lost; the battle of Shiloh was fought by Gen. Buell, and won. The defeat of Pittsburg Landing was relieved alone by ed by the courage and skill of Buell's whole conduct of the superior officers. All accounts agree in these general facts. Such being the case, how happens it, that, while the single officer is not bestowed on a solitary officer or soldier of defeat of Pittsburg Landing into the victory of Shiloh? How happens it, we say? Is victory less serviceable than defeat? Or is the chivalry which relieves the defeat it cannot avert more worthy of honor than the chivalry that adorns the victory it wrests from the jaws of defeat? As we enlarge our view, the mys-

Kentucky, ever mindful of the general welfare above all other things, makes the demand first and foremost on behalf of justice, and of that sovereign public good which justice alone can as detrimental to the public service as it is unfair to Kentucky and her brave sons. Without undertaking to account for the neglect, or to determine who is responsible for it, we respectfully demand that it shall continue no longer. Kentucky has borne it in silence, until silence has been mistaken by her sons ers for consent. Forbearance on the subject has ceased to be a virtue; and, accordingly, there should be no further forbearance, until Kentucky stands at Washington as proudly as she stood at Shiloh.

The lieutenant then returned to the without remorse whenever and wherever it battle field, left three of his badly wounded men suits their convenience. They pass no valua- (who will recover) in a farm house near by, and mournfully bore the body of his slain captain t Tompkinsville on the afternoon of the 6 h, where he was met at night by his comrades of the Lo-

and Glasgow. It being known that the gusrillas had crosse the Cumberland at Celina on the 7th, the detachment, after burying poor McCullough with the honors of war at Tompkinsville, were marched by all of the prominent friends of the Southern a flank to Turkey neck bend to cross the Cumber Confederacy in that section of Kentucky give | land and take Celina in the rear. They crossed in countenance to the maraudings of the guerillas a ferry boat at McMillan's ferry and marched to surprise Celina on the 8th, through and over the most horrible and awful country for cavalry move

The soft rock formation of the country is all has cut its way to that depth in Jackson county. The small streams here all cut down the level country to the same depth, and they all, including the Camberland, wind as crocked as snake the most tortuous character, with the roads winding now in a gorge, and now scaling a hill to go down into another gorge to cross the country had to march up a rainbow-shaped back bone ridge 500 feet high, from which you might have thrown a cracker on either side to the bottom, so steep were its sides, and march seven miles or MISCONSTRUCTION: -All the city papers of commissary well stored, which was quite a prize cable country for anything but pack mules, or could we have found river transporsation to Nashville. There was a little ferry flatboat, but it would not hold the twentieth part of the stores.

There were the twenty hogsheads of fine tobacco captured by Hamilton off a steamboat shortly afier Nashvslle was occupied by the Federal troops. They were held as his own prize, and were worth to him the snug little fortune of six thousand dollars-but alas! for him, he will never be able to realize on that tabaccol There was also a large quantity of C. S. A hard bread in boxes and barrels, sugar, vinegar, and molasses, also 250 bushels of prime white wheat. The men were ordered to stock their saddlebags with hard bread, and as there was no possible way of carrying off the stores for the United States Government, the barrel heads were soon knecked in and the Cumberland river made into what the Dutch call "switchel," Then the hard bread boxes and barrels were tossed down the bank and broken, and soon the river was covared and whitened several inches thick with crackers, making capital eating for the fish, who no doubt snap of his finger for his own debts, will not enjoyed it huge'y. Lastly, the difficulty was to be likely to trouble himself about those of the make a proper distribution of Hamilton's stoler tcbacco, and it was concluded, as they could no carry it dry to the Nashville market, they would send it there in the shape of an infusion; so each Beauregard hat is all the rage in that city. If head was knocked out and the hogsheads rolled in regular succession to the steep river bank, fifts running, they had better furnish themselves feet high, and one was rolled over. The effect was sublime! they went down in haste to the nearly level river bank, when they took a rico chet or flying leap into the centre of the river making the most magnificent water-works eve and easy, and efficient, that they were all sent sailing down the Cumberland in single file, and they soon settled two-thirds their depth, and no doubt juice to an extremity-as well as Hamilton him self, at seeing from the hill tops, where he was no doubt hidden in the woods, his plunder so suddenly pulled out of his pocket. The wheat was found oo cumbersome to carry to the river, and as matches are handy in the army where there are many smokers, the great guerilla commissary was fired, and wheat and C. S. A. was soon in oals. The other buildings near by were saved by the troops from the flames. The two compapies crossed in the ferryflit and rejoined their comrades at Tomokinsville, and, with another ompany, were left to attack and harass the guerillas and guard the river, the main body reurning to Bowling Green next day. FOR SALE.

Cord on the Legal and Equitable Rights of Married Women. A TREATISE ON THE LEGAL AND EQUITABLE RIGHTS OF MARRIED WOMEN, as well in respect to their property and persons as to their children with an appendix of the recent AMERICAN STAT WM. H. CORD, Esq., Of Flemingsburg, Ky.

From the Hon, R. B. Taney, Chief Justice of the United States.—I take rice are in saying that, upon examining the work, a thick it is among the most valuable contributions to the library of the lawyer and the large. The whole work is well arranged, and displays much learning and careful research, and is especially winable on account of the speed, and displays makes the book complete for the jurist of every State. From Judge Grier of the U. S. Supreme Court.—I recognize it as one much needed by the profession at present, as within a few years past the 'rights of married women,' have been much affected by legislation. By the common law they hardly had any.

From the Hon, J. S. Black, late Attorney-General of the U. S.—I have had time to look with some circ into Mr. Cord's book on the Right of Married Women. Such a work was needed by the profession. It fills a place which ought never to be empty in the library of any lawyer. I think its arrangen, at is admirable. The learning, skill, and talent it displays are extremely creditable to the author. The best wish I can exprass for the publishers is that it may be as successful as it & serves.

OUR SALT RIVER DEFENCES .- Many of OR citizens are not aware, probably, that we have strong and important defences near West Point at the mouth of Salt river, and that they are manned by Capt. J. S. Andrews's Michigan Battery, one of the finest artillery organizations i the service. The battery is officered by L. F Hale, Jr., First Lieutenant; N. S. Andrews, Jr. First Lieutenant; C. B. Tyler, Sr., Second Lieu tenant; and H. A. Hutson, Sr., Second Lieutenant. The works which the battery occupies are called Fort Blair, and are of importance, as they ommand the river for a considerable distance up and down, and cover the approaches to the Sala river ferry by the Nashville turnpike. And we are gratified to learn that this important locality is in the hands of good, true, and vigilant mer Captain Andrews was complimented by the mem bers of his battery recently with the present o an elegant sabre, appropriately inscribed, which he will bear, if called into battle, with honor t himself and credit to his State.

It turns out that the rumors as to the rebel raid in Shelby county had but slight foundation. It is true, doubtless, that a small rebel gang passed through the county on their way Scuth, but they were too weak or too timid to commi any depredations. Gen. Boyle despatched a sufficient force in that direction on Sunday night t circumvent them in any malicious designs they might have meditated, but Major Harney, who was in command, returned to the city last evening, having scoured the country adjacent t Shelbyville in a vain search for the enemy.

MEMPHIS JAIL DEMOLISHED .- From a lette received yesterday from Capt. Gilmore, of the Hetty Gilmore, dated at Memphis the 12th inst. the New Albany Ledger learns that when ou fleet arrived in sight of that city, the rabble of the city gathered in a great crowd and proceeded to the jail in order to demolish it. It was such vile and filthy place that they dreaded to be in carcerated in it, where the Union prisoners had been long confined. Not having powder to blow it up, they procured ladders and got on top and tore it down. The building is now a complete

There was an adjourned meeting of the Board of School Trustees last evening, the object requiring the teachers in the public schools to take the oath of allegiance, togsther with an olligation which was regarded as somewhat more binding than the oath which is generally adminis tered to public functionaries. There was a pro longed discussion, the Board deciding to omit the oath, resolving to elect none but loyal teachers, and providing for a trial before a proper tribunal of all teachers who may be deemed disloyal.

The candidates will be present, but we are authorized say that their various claims will be urged in the most delicate manner imaginable. Trains will leave the Frankfort Depot for the Fair Grounds at convenient intervals.

UNION NOMINATIONS. - The friends of the Union met at Lagrange yesterday and made the following nominations for county officers: T. A. Rodman, Judge; W. M. Moulan, Judge; W. C. Mahan, Court Clerk; A. J. Oldham, County Clerk; W. M. Maide, Jailor; W. W. Carroll County Attorney; Robert Bell, Coroner.

An attempt was made on Sunday to rob the ises of the Steamboat Captains' Association on Fourth street. The thief or thieves effected an entrance through the back door of the build ing in which the office was located, and broke open the desk of the Secretary, Mr. Maxwell A Hueston, but obtained no booty.

Sho lacks force but performs with judgment. To-night she ar pears as Marton in the Pride of the Market and as Margery in the Rough Diamond.

DROWNED. - A boy named Zachariah Reed was drowned on Sunday while in the river bathing at the mouth of Silver Creek above New Albany. The Ledger says his mother is a widow lady, and is greatly distressed at her sudden bereavement. At the last account Capt. George Austin

THE MORSE MAGNETIC TELEGRAPH IN WAR-ITS UTILITY TO GENERAL MCCLELLAN -The following letter from Parker Spring, Superinendent construction of U.S. M. Telegraph ines, gives an interesting account of the services of the Morse Telegraph to the army, and of Ger. McClellan's use of it: [From the Lancaster (Penn.) Express.]

U. S. MILITARY TELEGRAPH HEADQUARTE DEPARTMENT POTOMAC, GAINES' HILL 7 miles from Richmond, June 2. From the time the Army of the Potomac first left Washington the U.S. Military Telegraph has never for an hour been allowed to remain in the rear. Before reaching his new headquarters Gen. McClellan almost invariably learns that the wire is on the advance; that an office has already been opened at the point designated before he left his old camp, and that communication to the War Department at Washington is open for him. In several instances when the army had marched fifteen miles in one day, the telegraph had reached the new quarters two hours in advance. When our troops are obliged to remain a few days in one position, wices are immediately run from n one position, wires are immediately run from Jen. McClellan's headquarters to the headquar-ers of all commanders of divisions, thereby placing the entire section of country occupied by ir troops under his instant control. Assistance like this is surely valuable to our glorious cause and I am happy to say it is fully appreciated by

Saturday previous to the evacuation of York-town, General McClellan ordered me to run a wire into our battery No. 6, in order to give him telegraphic communication from his headquarters, which were distant about one and a half miles. This battery laid half a mile in front of General Hein'zelman, and within half a mile of a long chain of rebel batteries. The office at Battery No. 6 was to be located under ground, in a bombproof arrangement, in order to save the precious life of the manipulator, who would be in his hole before daybreak next morning. I was informed by General Heintzelman's aids that it was a very the zardous experiment; that from the point where the line must cross the fields the rebel officers could be heard distinctly giving command; that the rebel pickets were within two hundred and fifty yards of us, and if we attempted to distribut poles with our wegon we would be fired upon Of these facts I informed all our mer. Regard less of danger, they unanimously voted for the extension. Fortunately, that night was dark, and promptly at nine P. M. we were in readiness o commence operations.

After cautioning all hands to work quietly, etailed the men as follow: Cosgrove, Hoover treiner, and McGuire to dig holes; Rote, Keller Benedict, and Jones to distribute poles on their shoulders, who had to carry them a full mile. John Tryer I posted as guard—his du'y was to wrich the flash of the rebel guns, and notify the men, who were working and could not see, when to fall on the sed, should the rebels hear us and county of the first first laws quiet in the second over pen. Thus far all was quiet in the secesh quar ters. Scarcely had our operations commenced when a compliment from Gen. Magruder in the shape of a shell was sent us. Through the timely notice received from our guard, Mr. Tryer, that "he saw a flish, and that something with a fiery tail was coming towards us," we were enabled to drop. It came within fifty yards of us, burst, but did no damage.

After that shot and shell followed in rapid suc-After that shot and shell followed in rapid succession, until we completed our task, which, owing to loss of time in dodging, occupied fully five hours. A number of these missiles fell within thirty feet of us, showing conclusively that the rebel pickets had discovered our operations, and were directing the fire of their artillery. We have preserved pieces of a shell which knocked down a pole behind us, which had not been erected five minutes before the shot was fired. The line was run through a soft cornfield, and it was amusing next day, after the evacuation, when we returned to this field, to see the lifelike pictures of Tryer, Cosgrove, and several others, nicely portrayed in the mud, and which no artist in the world could excel. They were at once

The telegraph has been called upon to perform The telegraph has been called upon to prform a still more mysterious wonder. For sometime past I have been ordered by Colonel Eckert (our superintendent of military telegraphs) to try a telegraphic experiment from a balloon. Saturday morning, when we heard that a great battle must be fought, Prof. Lowe notified me that I should extend the wire to his balloon, and we would try it. In one hour we had brought the wire a mile and a half, and I was ready to ascond with the Professor. The battle had commenced with the Professor. The battle had commenced When it had reached its zenith, Prof. Lowe and myself, with the telegraph, had reached an altitude of 2,000 feet. With the aid of good glasses, we were enabled to view the whole affair between these powerful contending armies. As the fight progressed, hasty observations were made by the professor, and since to myselve all of which is the office, public for the professor, and since the myselve all of which is the office, and the o rofessor and given to me verbally, all of which I immediately forwarded to General McClellan and division commanders, through the agency of the obedient field instrument which stood by our

In such cases the occupants of the balloon would inform our artillerists of its position, and the next shot or two would, in every case, silence he masked and annoying customer. For hours, and until qui'e dark, we remained in the air, the telegraph keeping up constant communication with some point. From the balloon to Fortress Monroe, a distance of over one hundred miles, this wire worked beautifully. A number of messages were sent and received between these two points, were sent and received between these two points, and had it not been for the tremendous rush of business on the wire I should have telegraphed you directly from the balloon, while the battle was raging. Sunday morning at daybreak we again ascended. Early in the morning the battle was renewed, and with more fierceness than the day before. Incessant firing of muskery ard artillars were kent and it. tillery was kept up until noon, when I had the extreme pleasure to announce by telegraph from the balloon that we could see the enemy retreating rapidly toward Richmond. At this time we could see firing on James river to the left of Richmond, distance from the balloon (some said) fifteen miles. This fire was of short duration. The streets of Richmond in the morning presented a deserted appearance, but very few people to be seen in the streets. During the afternorn and evening of Sunday nothing of interest transpired beyond the removal of the rebel dead and wounded, all of which we could distinctly see from the hallow. Every available machine see from the balloon. Every available machine that had wheels was brought into requisition for this purpose. From the scene of battle into the city of Richmond, the road was literally lined with ambulances, wagons, and carts, conveying the dead and wounded. About twilight we saw campfires innumerable around the city; smoke isued from all their hospitals and barracks, which day morning we made several ascensions, and fund a small force near the last scene of action, and thousands of troops marching out from the city, so you may look momentarily for a report of

Official—Geo. E. Scott, Lieut, and Post Adju

I have frequently heard, in the last few days, that it is charged that my reason for supporting Thomas A. Morgan for Marshal of the Louisville Chancery Court is that I am expecting a deputyship in case he is elected. There is not a shadow of truth in the charge. If Mr. Morgan is elected I neither expect nor will I be his deputy, nor will be in any west interested in the rofits of the I be in any way interested in the profits of the office. I am for him because I know him to be honest and competent to discharge the duties of the office, and worthy of the confidence of the public for that position.

TELEGRAPHIC NEWS.

McClellan's Headquaters, Saturday Evening, June 14 The rebels yesterday, after driving from Old Church a squadron of the Fifth Cavalry, proseded to Garlick's Landing on the Pamunky fiver, about four miles above the White House, where they burnt two schooners and some wagons, and drove off the mules. Their conduct is represented as herbarous, having killed several wagons, and drove off the mules. Their conduct is represented as barbarous, having killed several of our teamsters without any necessity. Those who failed to make their escape were taken prisoners. From there they proceeded to Churchell's Station, four miles from the White House, with a view of burning the railroad bridge.

A train which was passing down at the time was fired into, killing two and wounding several. A Colonel belonging to the Excelsior Brigade was then taken prisoner, but succeeded in escaping. During the night a paymaster junped from the train and hid in the woods until morning, leaving $120,000 in the cars. The train never stepped, but passed on to White House. After destroving the telegraph wires, they proceeded to Ball, to cross near New Kent Court huse, on the way to Richmond, crossing the Chickshominy, batween Bottom's Bridge and James River, about two o'clock this morning.

Augusta, June 11.—Fighting still continues in the vicinity of Charleston. Papers of that city of this morning contain an account of a sharp engagement on James Island on Tuesday, which lasted till dark Col. Williams, of the 46th Georgis, was mortally wounded. The Confederates succeeded in driving the Yankees from a piece of woods they were trying to occupy. A Federal prisoner taken on Monday reports the enemy's force at sixteen regiments and a few nemy's force at sixteen regiments and a few ore expected daily.

Atlanta, June 10.—Passengers by the Stat More expected daily.

Allanta, June 10.—Passengers by the State train reported the enemy, variously estimated at from 3,000 to 7,000, had left the river opposite Chattanooga after dividing his forces, part going up and part going down the river. It was believed that they would attempt to cross and form a junction on this side, to attack this city. Generals Kirby Smith, Leadbetter, and Reyro'ds are there with plenty of troops to meet the enemy. The people of Chattanooga are firm and free from alarm.

NEW ORLEANS, May 11, 1862. * * * * * We have never suffered for bread, nor indeed

We have never suffered for breas, nor indeed any of the good things of life, as thousands of our poor have done; and as for the final termination of affairs, I felt confident that the "Yackees" would be here in the spring, and my hopes for the present have relied on them, as my hopes for the future do on the Bible. God bless the old final She proudly floats once more over our poor defined, our almost lost city, and we begin to breathe the delicious air of tiberty-that can be breathed nowhere else in the world save under the bro. During the entire winter we have not been able to give expression to our true sentiments with regard to the condition of the country, but we have been blessed in our own family, and immediate circle of friends, by the presence of a spirit of love for our old country and its institutions, which has only become intensified by the bitter hatred shown by those around, who would give liberty its death blow. Now, the time is fast approaching when we shall no longer be obliged to speak or act a lie; day by day the Unionists gain favor with the people of New Orleans, especially the poorer classes, because they see the prospect of peace and plenty as of old, while now they are actually starving; but, of course, there are many who still cherish the most while now they are actually starving; but, of course, there are many who still cherish the most bitter feelings in their hearts. I heard yesterday that hundreds have enlisted in the United States service, and also that several hundred have been smuggled from the city at night to join Besuregard's army. If Gen. Butler does not know it, I wish it could be brought to his knowledge in some way, that it might be stopped.

We have had the coolest spring I have ever known in New Orleans. I trust it is providential for the thousands of poor soldiers who throng our streets, and unused to our broiling tropical sun, and that it will contine aco. Above all, I pray no yellow fever may be allowed to devastate our while now they are actually starving; but, o and that it will contribe soot. Above air, I pray no yellow fever may be allowed to devastate our city, that these poor fellows, who have given up their comfortable Northern homes to maintain the honor of their country's flag, may not be obliged, after braving all the dangers of the battle field, to succumb before sickness and

IMPORTANCE OF RIVERS .- The London Daily Telegraph gives the following discriminating view of the important part now played by rivers in the "strategy" of this country:

There are not wanting critics of this great campaign who speak as if this naval power of the Federals were a thing of passing influence. They seem to forget that the enormous area of the Americas war has made highroads of the rivers; Americas war has made highroads of the rivers; so that the great cities lie all along their banks, and wesl th and population of the States are gathered by them, and they are and must remain the strategic lines of the country. We should not else have witnessed the South offering and accepting battles within reach of those water courses which have served the North so well. To have ned them would have been to give up alland all will be given up, so far as organized mili-tary resistance is concerned, when the gunboats of the North command seaboard and stream alike. of the North command seaboard and stream airse.

BUSHWHACKING IN VIRGINIA .- We make the following extracts from the Wheeling Intelligencer of Saturday:

We learn from Lieut. David Bell, Quartermaster of the 11th Virginia regiment, that on Saturday last Col Rathbone, of that regiment, sent out scouling parties from Spencer, under the command of Capt. Myers and Lieutenants Parks. Ross, and Fisher, to proceed in the direction of "Big Bend," on the Little Kanawha. One of the equads under the command of Lieut. Ross has just returned, and reports having fallen in with rebels and killed four, viz: David Gibson, Liss Morgan, Henry Ratcliff, and Alfred Mazs. They also mortally wounded Andy Duskey, since dand. On Sund ynight, the equad under Lieut. Ross came up n twenty other rebels. They fired and gave chase. The next morning, on visiting the ground, they found it covered with blood in several places. The inhabitants say that eleven were killed, including Capt. Downs, the noted guerilla, and a number wounded. The other parties have not returned, and no report had been received when Lieut. Bell left.

ley, of the 7th Virginia infantry, dated Luray, Page county, June 7th, mentions that Shields's division had hardly got out of Luray on its way to one Sam Galli pie, a Georgian, who had a son shot in Milroy's fight. Gallispie had the men shot and directed their dead bodies to be taken home.

A train on the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad was fired upon near New Creek a few evenings since, but no damage was done.

At a meeting of the citizens of New Liberty and vicinity, in Owen county, Kentucky, irrespective of party, held at the Female Academy, on the 11th day of June, 1862, on motion, A. M. Rigg, Esq, was called to the Chair, and James H. Parker was appointed Secretary.

The object of the meeting having been explained to the Chair, and James and James are the Chair and James and James and James appointed Secretary.

The object of the meeting having been explained by the Chairman, on motion, the Chairman was directed to appoint a committee to draft resolutions expressive of the sense of the meeting, whereupon the following gentlemen were appointed to wir: Dr. Carter B. Snell, Dr. J. Lyman Martin, Wake Holeman, Elijih Arno'd, and Duval English, who retired and in a short time reported the following preamble and resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, to wit:

WHEREAS, We have positive information that armed men, in defiance of the State and Federal laws, have this day shot and killed, in this county, Federal soldiers, in the discharge of their duty, and we most earnestly deprecating such lawlessness in our midst, deem it our duty to express our abhorrence of such a course in this manner; therefore, be it

[From the London Times, May 28.] EUROPE "PERPLEXED" AT THE VIEW OF THE MILITARY POWER OF THE UNION—The war in America is sweeping over the land with the velcity and destructiveness of a hurricane, and all the ordinary feelings and pursuits of men are absorbed in its vortex. Builerius from the armies succeed each other with rapidity enough to satisfy even the appetite of the New York public, sharpened as it was with twelve months of famine. The scale of operations is absolutely tremendous. The Federals have 700,000 men in arms, and the army estimates actually voted for the present army estimates actually voted for the present year exceed £125,000,000 sterling. These forces are no longer stationary. In the East, as well as the West, they are so actively engaged that every the West, they are so actively engaged that every mail brings us the intelligence of a battle, an attack, an advance, or a conquest. President Lincoln was right enough when in his homely language he described this war as a "big j.b." It is about the biggest j b of the kind ever seen, no mere "ainety days" business or temporary disturbance. The "insurrection" which Mr. Seward believed to be "waning" at the close of last year now covers half a continent with desolation and havoc, and we are warned that the battles known to be imminent will exceed in severity any hitharto fought.

According to the reports from the several market places in the city there have been received this week:

THE REPULSE OF THE FRENCH ARMY. [From El Reductor, of Santiago de Cuba, May 22.] OFFICIAL. CORPS D'ARMEE OF THE EAST,)

GENERAL IN-CHIEF: In compliance with the verbal orders and instructions which the citizen General-in-Chief was pleased to give me last night, I placed myself this morning at the Garita ds Amczoc, with the Brigade which is under my orders, composed of the fixed battalion of Vera Cruz and the 1st and 31 battalions of Toluca, formed in two columns of attack, and ready to make the anticipated charge in case I so determined.

At 11 o'clock in the forenoon, by order of the citizen General-in Chiof, I proceeded at a quick step to the top of Mounts Guadalupe and Loreto, for the purpose of aiding the citizen Gen. Migler Negrete, charged with the defence of those positions. I arrived opportunely, for the enemy was completing the organization of his forces for the attack. I arranged with Gen. Negrete that with his reserves and my brigade we should form a line of battle, supported by a ditch covered with trees, of battle, supported by a ditch covered with trees, at the extremities of which were the said points of Loreto and Guadalups. This was done, and making the mar œuvre at a quick step the line of battle was formed and ready to resist the shock of the enemy.

At a quarter before twelve o'clock two battalions of Zuaves, extended as riflemen, presented themselves to us, making on us a deadly fire, and preparing for a charge with two strong columns that advanced rapidly toward our line, protected by a hot fire from their rifls cannon. Our riflemen fell back in good order, and the enemy, with the bravery which is peculiar to the French soldier and worthy of a better cause, rushed on us Our suffering so'diers, no less courageous perhaps than the French, received the hot fire of the Zonaves without discharging their pieces, waiting for the word of command from their officers. When we had the enemy at less than fir, press, the citizen Gen. Negreto and I ordered the firing to be commenced, when the ordered the firing to be commenced, when the valiant French soldiers came forward and fell dead within fifteen paces of our line of battle. Their columns were decimated by our fire, were Their columns were accumated by our hie, were put in complete disorder, and compelled to fly before the modest soldiers of Mexic; we imme-diately charged on them, a bitter conflict with the bayonet taking place between some of the soldiers, which finally rendered us masters of the

the charge.

The enemy, intelligent and stubborn, had prepared new columns and strong flanking forces of riflemen. With these they returned immediately to the charge, but all the commanding officers of our forces, and most especially the citizen Gen. Negrete, whose calmness and activity were remarkable, re-formed the line of buttle and awaited another push of the enemy. Their efforts were unavailing, and for the second time we compelled them to fly and leave a great number of their dead, who had received balls in the back. A second time our corps charged with extraordinary second time our corps charged with extraordinary intrepidity, and the French army would have been entirely destroyed this time if at the com-mencement we had a little cavalry at our disfor it, it was not possible for it to arrive until this last charge was over. But nevertheless, their presence, and the intrepidity with which the brave Gen. Alvarez charged on the little ground which he could use, was sufficient to prevent the enemy from repeating his attack on foo'; but our attention was again cilled to some flemen, while on the right flank of the fortifica-on of Guadalupe.
